OFFICE OF THE BISHOP

May, 2000

Dear Graduates of the Year 2000 of Bishop Byrne High School,

Congratulations to each of you on having completed your studies and all you have accomplished at Bishop Byrne High School!

As you emerge from the halls of Bishop Byrne into the next step of your life's journey, I pray that you take with you the fruits grown from the seeds of wisdom and knowledge that were planted during your tenure there. Although you will surely be challenged by the world around you, I feel certain that Bishop Byrne has adequately armed you with the discipline and truth necessary to meet those challenges!

Wherever your future takes you, and whatever your dreams call you to do, I pray that you will do so with a faith that is alive, a hope that is anchored in the Lord, and a love that reflects the goodness our Almighty God.

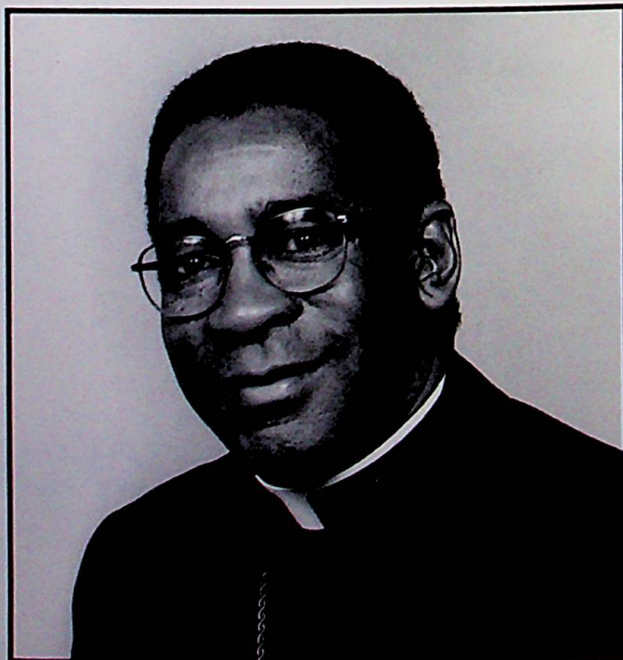

May each of you be your personal best and let your light shine as you seek to make the community and our world a better and holier place for everyone!

Congratulations and God bless you!

In the Divine Word,

+ Terry Steib, S.V.D.

LET US PRAY

Hail Mary full of grace the Lord is with you. Blessed are you among women and
blessed is the fruit
of your womb.
Jesus, Holy Mary,

pray for us sinners
now and at the

Homecoming 1999

Homecoming 1999 took place the week of October the third to the ninth. Classes were judged for class points won. Enthusiasm brought forward a great week, pumping our football team with great spirit.

Students' hall decorations narrate a story relating to the homecoming game.

The seniors chose "Daria"; the juniors selected the "Simpsons"; the sophomores "Life with Louie"; while the freshmen presented "The Flintstones."

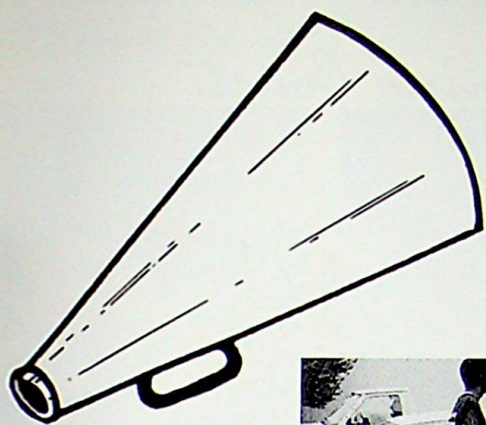

Trey fought for the freshmen by working up a sweat during the obstacle course.

Gosh! how tacky! Chinem shows us it doesn't really matter on tacky day.

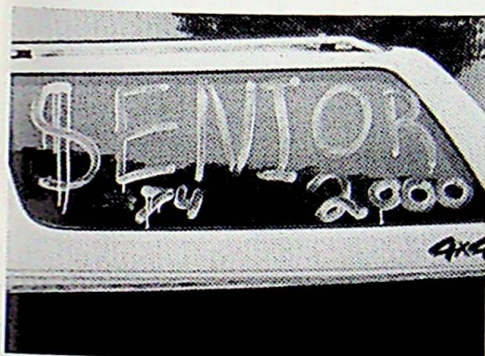

Ship, ship...there comes Rachel down the hall.

Mr. Rigg shows us his own spirit on tacky day.

Whose Line Is It Anyway?

Messing around behind the scenes:

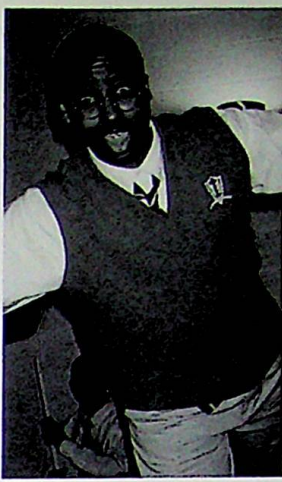

- Mr. Broadway and Squishy (Michael Harris) at the sewing machine
- Random outbursts of dancing
- Lun Tha (Chris Bingham) and Thiang (Laura Rizzo) dancing backstage
- Etc, etc, etc...
- Paint fumes
- The Buddhist king saying "Thank you, Jesus!"
- Excessive use of duct tape for restraining stage manager (hog-tying Larry Harden)
- Everyone (almost) is taller than the King
- The "G" word (gesture)
- Laura chasing air molecules
- Anna (Toria Randle) singing to the coat rack
- The King's pants falling down
- Marc, in the fashion of Beavis and Butthead: The lover has been found. He is dead.
- Tuptim (Angie Price): I was not lovers with this man!
- Kralahome (A. J. Dugger). Yes, you were
- Anya, the fish, on the backdrop
- Mr. Rigg singing: Don't cry young lovers wherever you are; Don't cry because I'm a jerk!
- The whip breaking and turning into a lethal projectile
- King (Michael Harris) calling Anna "Lady Thiang"
- Lady Thiang kidnapping Anna
- "Lady Thiang, don't fall off the platform!"
- King: Ah, good. I apolo - YOU apologize!
- Mr. Rigg opening the door, right into Lun Tha's face!
- Diondria's mad dash across the stage during a scene
- King, Thiang, and Chululongkorn (Sam James) ad libbing
- Kneeling injuries
- Squishy, the soprano
- Mr. Rigg: Curses! A pox on your house!
- Angie's scream, provided by Squishy
- "Oh, that was GOOD, Your Majesty!"
- Introducing Darth Maul as Simon of Lagree
- "Comes a mountain!...Or plateau!"
- Kralahome, Chululongkorn, and Thiang dancing
- Someone putting duct tape in Jennifer's hair
- Lauren Price talking backstage to...NO ONE!
- Larry using half a roll of duct tape to keep the door curtain in place
- Adam Walker trying to fix the stage lights
- Letting Beth Hooker use power tools
- Beth the paparazzi
- Being blamed for flag theft
- Using an entire roll of duct tape in 45 minutes

And this isn't even half the fun we had. It is a wonder anything got done, but it did, thanks mostly to Mr. Rigg, Mr. Broadway, and Mrs. Stubblefield.

Say what?

This season was a season of learning. With a mostly new Junior Varsity team and new members on Varsity, Miss V had her work cut out for her. While our record may not have been stellar, it was an improvement from last year. But when you get down to it, scores and statistics don't matter. What matters is that you do your best and have fun.

On the road again...That was the story of our lives for a while. It seemed like every weekend we were packing up to go to some tournament. Nashville one week, then Jonesboro the next, plus practices every day after school...To some of us, home seemed like this nice place we visited every once in a while. Yes, it sounds tough, but you know what? We wouldn't have it any other way.

Rachel and Mariah had 4 bags of candy on the trip up to Nashville. Can you tell?

Word From The Editor

It has been a wonderful two years of experience working on the yearbook staff. This year I had the pleasure of serving as editor. Believe me, I could not have done it alone. I had the help of Mrs. Moore, advisor, Angel Crawford, co-editor, and other students. Thank you all for your support and hard work. I will miss you.

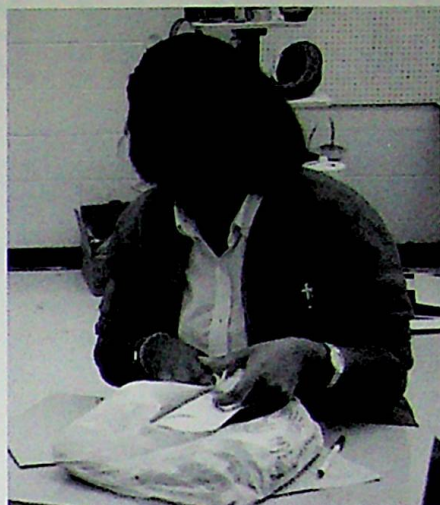

Love always,
Laia Antoinette Jones,
editor

Journalists in action

Bishop Byrne journalists have overextended themselves in order to produce a more detailed version of this year's yearbook. Members of 99-00 yearbook staff include: Laia Jones (editor), Angel Crawford (co-editor), Toria Randle, Allison Edwards, Paul Graham, Laura Rizzo, Beth Hooker, John Hall, Larry Phillips, Nashara Crawford, Derrika Gardner, & Tara Ford.

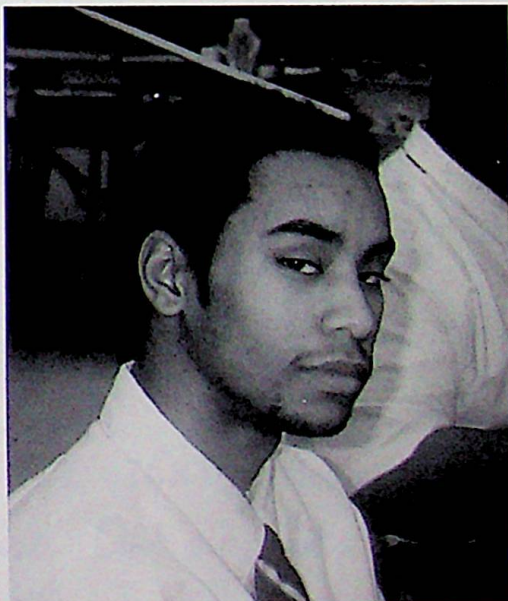

Toria, looks like you're scared of what's in the bag...they're probably pictures!

Laia: A...B...hmm hmm i forgot, oh! C!!

The Sacred Union of the Church

Our mass deals with the seriousness of love and unity. We praise God to influence our grace with his love. We are challenged to sacrifice our time as well as our soul to God. The Living Eucharist allows us to communicate with God.

Father McArthur shows his knowledge of his heart and his pain by telling us of everyday events. He helps us to understand a biblical story by telling everyday lessons.
